

Technology Transfer Case

Application of space-based thermal heating technology to enable circular sport flooring

Companies involved: Artigo (Mondo Group) and Inovalab, with the active involvement of STAM as ESA Technology Broker for Italy.

How it works: A controlled inductive heating system activates adhesive reactions to enable clean removal of flooring without damaging the substrate. This allows materials to be reused, recycled, or upcycled—promoting a circular, low-waste solution.

Discover more on our website:
www.esa-technology-broker.it

